

Energy Coach Barbe Ratcliffe Releases New Website Showcasing Her Energy Jewelry

Summary: Stones such as Coral and Turquoise carry the capability to subtly adjust our energy patterns, and therefore gently enhance our lives. Barbe Ratcliffe's new website will share her knowledge of stone energy and her skill of coaching with people looking to make changes to their lives.

Denver, CO (PRWEB) November 1, 2007 – Energy coach Barbe Ratcliffe has released her website Be Unlimited Jewelry Design to share her knowledge of stone energy and her skill of coaching with people looking to make changes to their lives.

Stones contain the oldest energies on Earth. Each Stone carries its own unique vibration, which gently interacts with your own vibration (energy) in a very subtle manner to assist you in whatever you are facing in life – from joyful events to the most sorrowful of times.

“People are attracted to different stones for a reason,” states Ratcliffe. “The energy in each stone is speaking out, and may be intending to assist you in your life.”

Coral has a calming influence
Mookaite supports growth
Rose Quartz attracts love and peace
Jade brings a hint of luck into your life
Turquoise vibrates strength

By choosing the Stones you are most drawn to, you are subtly and positively impacting your own internal energy systems.

Through Ratcliffe's website BeUnlimitedJewelry.com, she allows people to learn more about each stone energy, and choose pieces that will complement their lifestyles.

“I develop each piece of jewelry to help empower the wearer,” states Ratcliffe. “People are amazed at the effects a stone can have on their lives once they are attuned to the attraction. I love helping people understand those meanings, and I develop my jewelry and my coaching to give people the knowledge they've been searching for.”
